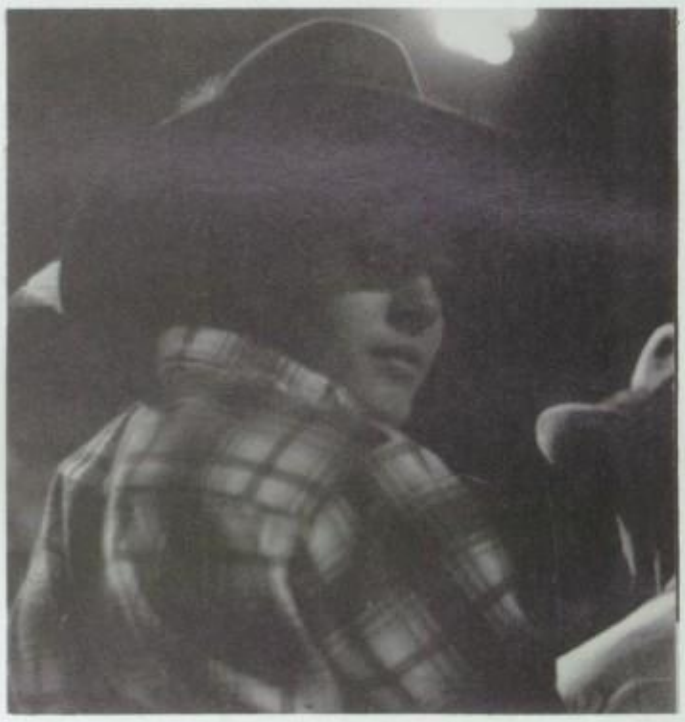
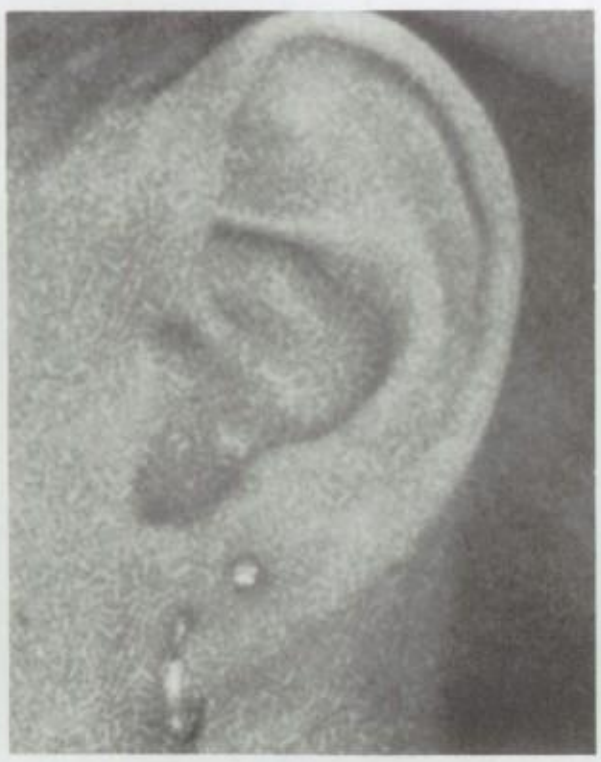
Behind the Scenes...





FADS & FASHIONS

Fads are as big a part of high school as Friday night dances and pep assemblies. This year fashion is as big and wide spread as ever. Although Spokane is a little behind when it comes to fashion, kids have kept up with New York fashion jeans and California Hawaiian shirts.

Pants have changed from straight legged and painter to pleated and baggy. Pastel colored sweaters along with blouses were popular with an assortment of lace collars. Any girl could dress up her outfit with a variety of pins like rainbows, Miss Piggy, or crayola crayons.

Pierced earrings went from gold and silver to bright pink and purple and some girls had their ears pierced twice or even more. Hairstyles were wide spread and girls were wearing combs, braids, and pony tails and the boys were even spending time on their feathered short hair.

Popular cowboy fashions appealed to everyone at CV and it gave the boys a chance to be fashionable, too. Other trends of the time were buying used army pants and bowling shirts at Value Village and even European punk rock took its toll.

In the music world, there was AC/DC, Cheap Trick, Earth, Wind and Fire, Brothers Johnson, Commodores, Donna Summer, Michael Jackson, Devo, B-52's, and Frank Zappa.

... the changing times

1980-81 was definitely a year of many fads and fashions and we will look back at them and laugh like we do at our parents' bobbie socks, leather jackets, and ducktails.

School Spirit In Dramatics Is Reflected

Many changes have taken place at Central Valley in the past year. One of the changes and welcomed additions was our new drama coach, Mr. Jack Betts. Mr. Betts expanded the drama program by adding new types of classes. With the addition of these new classes, mime and directing, also came an increase in enrollment. More students became involved in the drama program this last year than have in the past. Some students worked on the sets while others did the actual acting on the stage. Although the actors are seen the most, the students working on make-up and other behind the scene jobs, play a very important role.

CV's first production this year was "Deadwood Dick." The stage was set in Calamity Jane's Mantrap Saloon, a den in iniquity, where gambling and drinking were always present. The villian, Deadwood Dick, was believed throughout the play to be one of three characters. When in the end his true identity was revealed, the captive audience was suprised and delighted.

A Family Affair

Put on by the PTSA, (Parent, Teacher, Student Association) the Ham Dinner is an annual event. It is mostly a fund raiser and a good one at that.

A good turnout this year made it a success. There were smiles all around, and old friends visiting and socializing. New friendships were made, too. The Ham Dinner is a Central Valley tradition and a nice evening out for the family.

Top Left: Mr. Hafner talks over the big turn out of the Ham dinner and the Amends relax and finish up their meal.

It's Hard to be Humble

When you're perfect in every way.

I can't wait to look in the mirror,

'Cuz I get better looking each day.

I must be a heck of a man.

It's hard to be humble...

This song seems to have been Mr. Hafner's theme song for the Year of the Bear. It epitomizes the pride and confidence he had in the student body — its scholastic, athletic, musical and artistic talents.

Chuck Hafner's first year as principal at Central Valley High School was perfect in every way. He worked closely and enthusiastically with the students and faculty to build fresh ideas, positive attitudes, and 'pride and class.'

Mr. Hafner made it obvious he enjoyed coming to school and performing his duties with the able assistance of Kathy Irwin and Anton Rasmussen...

I'm doing the best that I can.

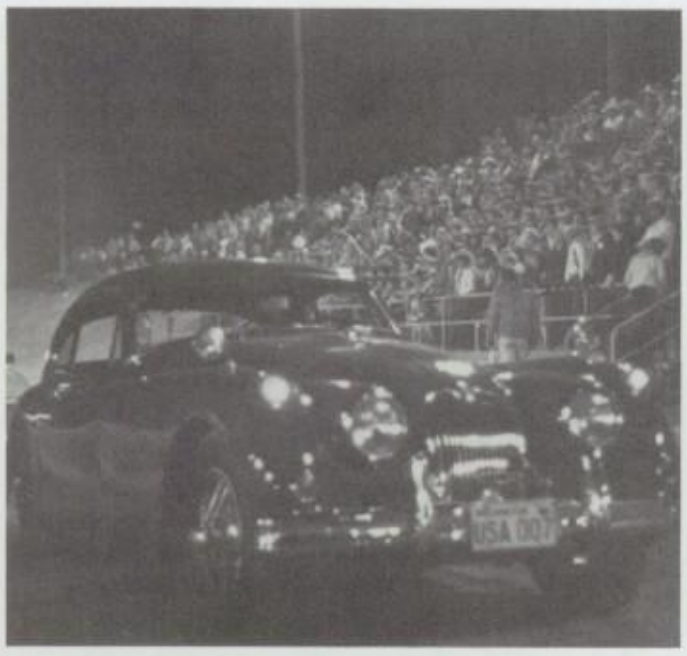
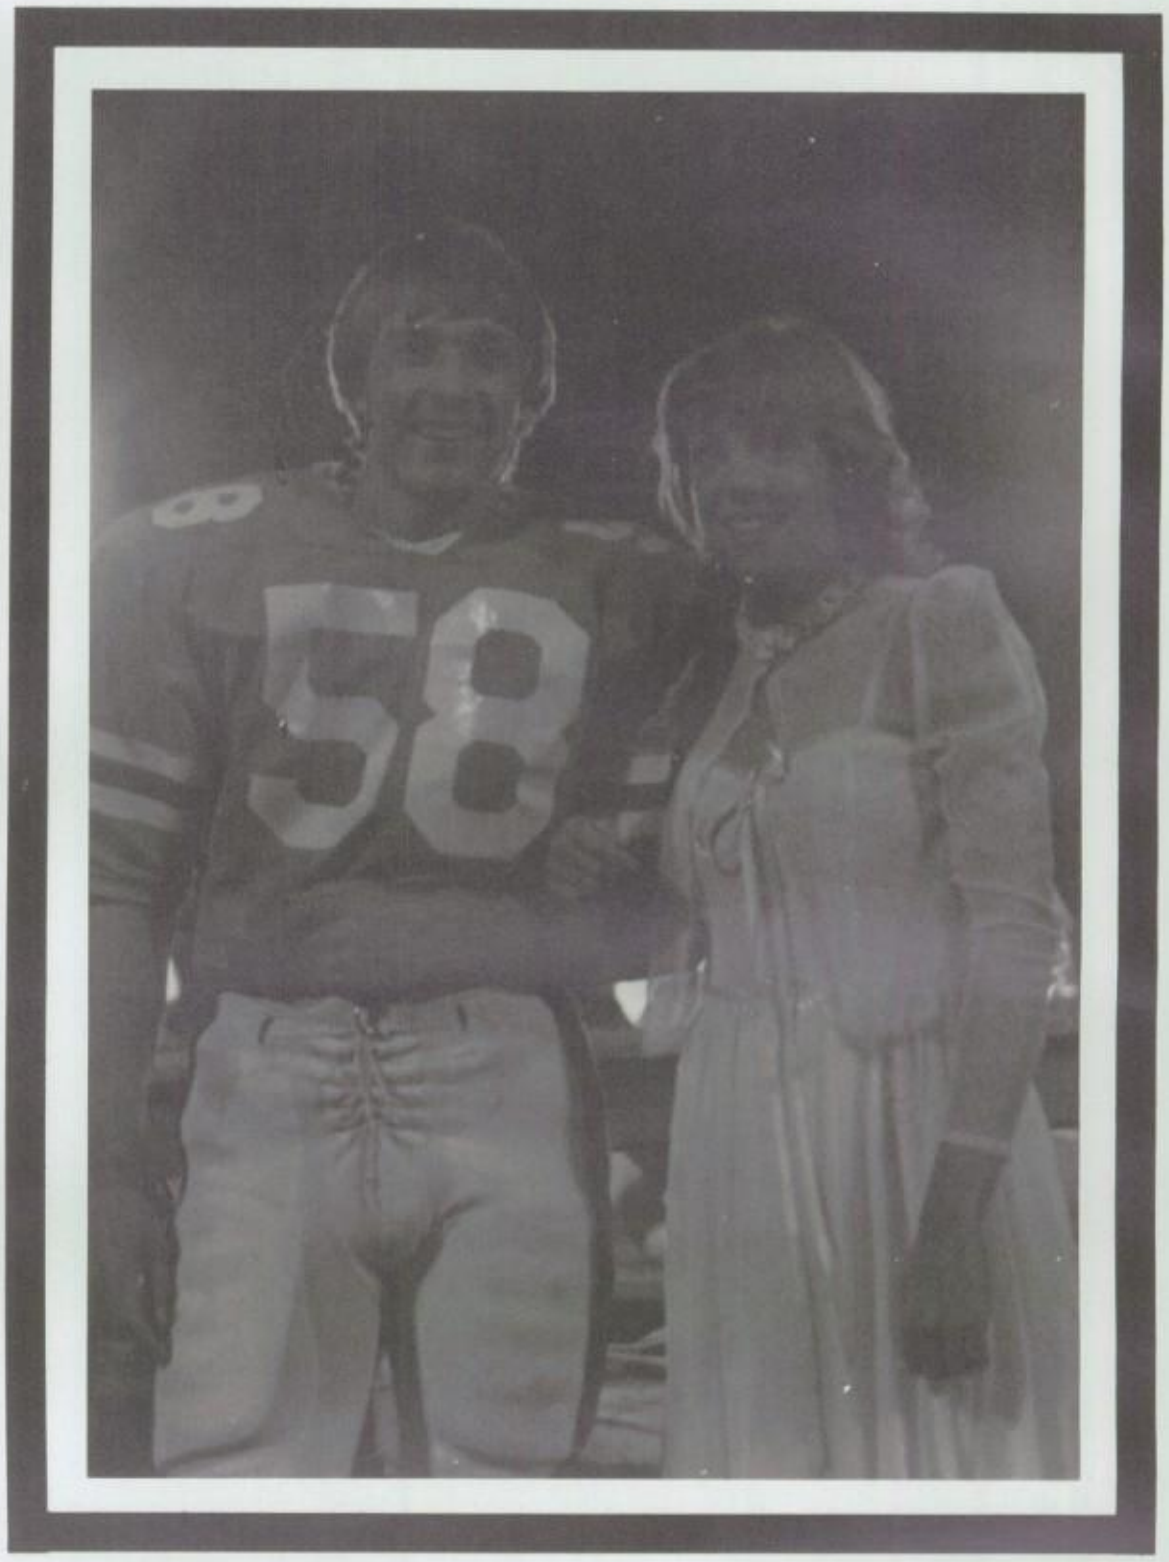
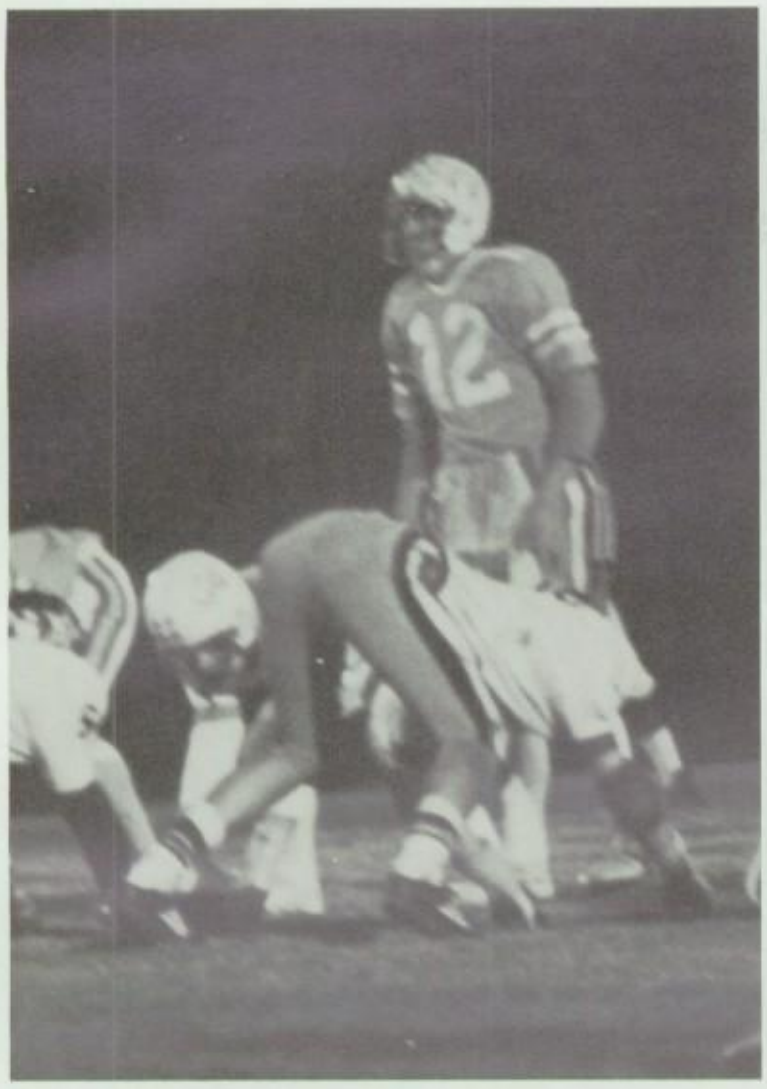
HOMECOMING '80







"WE ARE FAMILY"

Homecoming '80 will go down as one of the greatest for the Bears. The intense CV football team defeated LC 22-7, with a great all around effort. The senior class won spirit breakfast, volleyball attendance, and class competition; not to mention the all around title which crowned Tim Sullivan and Megan DeAndre king and queen.

A Silent Picture Comes to an End

Our story begins in the school year 1954-55. The character in this unique story is Anton Rasmussen. At the age of 29 he comes to work at Central Valley High School as a teacher, head football coach, and head track coach.

Teaching everything there was to teach, with the exception of English, "Rass" not only gained respect from the staff but popularity with the student body. "There were no free periods in those days, so I had a pretty full schedule," said Rass.

As head coach of both football and track, he gained the reputation of being fair and respected. History teacher Ron Knudsen, said, "The kids always played hard and won for him and they will never forget him."

In 1960 he relinquished his coaching position on the track team to Clayton Mitchel to begin the counseling department as head counselor. In 1962, he relinquished his position as head football coach to Gary Davis. The big event in 1962 was Rass becoming Vice Principal. "I have never known another administrator who cared more about 'his kids'. It is hard for a Vice Principal to care so much when his job is discipline," said English teacher, Mary Zografos.

For 27 years Rass has committed himself to Central Valley, the faculty, and the students. It is with sadness that we bid a fond farwell to our beloved "Rass."

He is retiring with the class of '81 to rest and take the leisure that he deserves. "He has the right to be selfish and have some time with his family", said colleague, Kathy Irwin.

Rass — from the class of '81, the student body, and the faculty — goodbye. We love you.

The Peoples' Choice

Our A.S.B. officers this year have put on a great show for us and have proven to be great leaders. Among the accomplishments of the 1980-81 school year was the Leadership Conference at Ross Point, an exciting spirit week with a bonfire, sing-a-long and spirit breakfast, and a Christmas caroling party for the entire school.

The officers held student council meeting every first and third Wednesday of each month and got new blue sweaters for themselves and the other members of the student counsel. They also planned some spring events so that the students had something to release their "spring fever" energy. With the help of Mr. Hafner they made the school year one that everyone would remember.

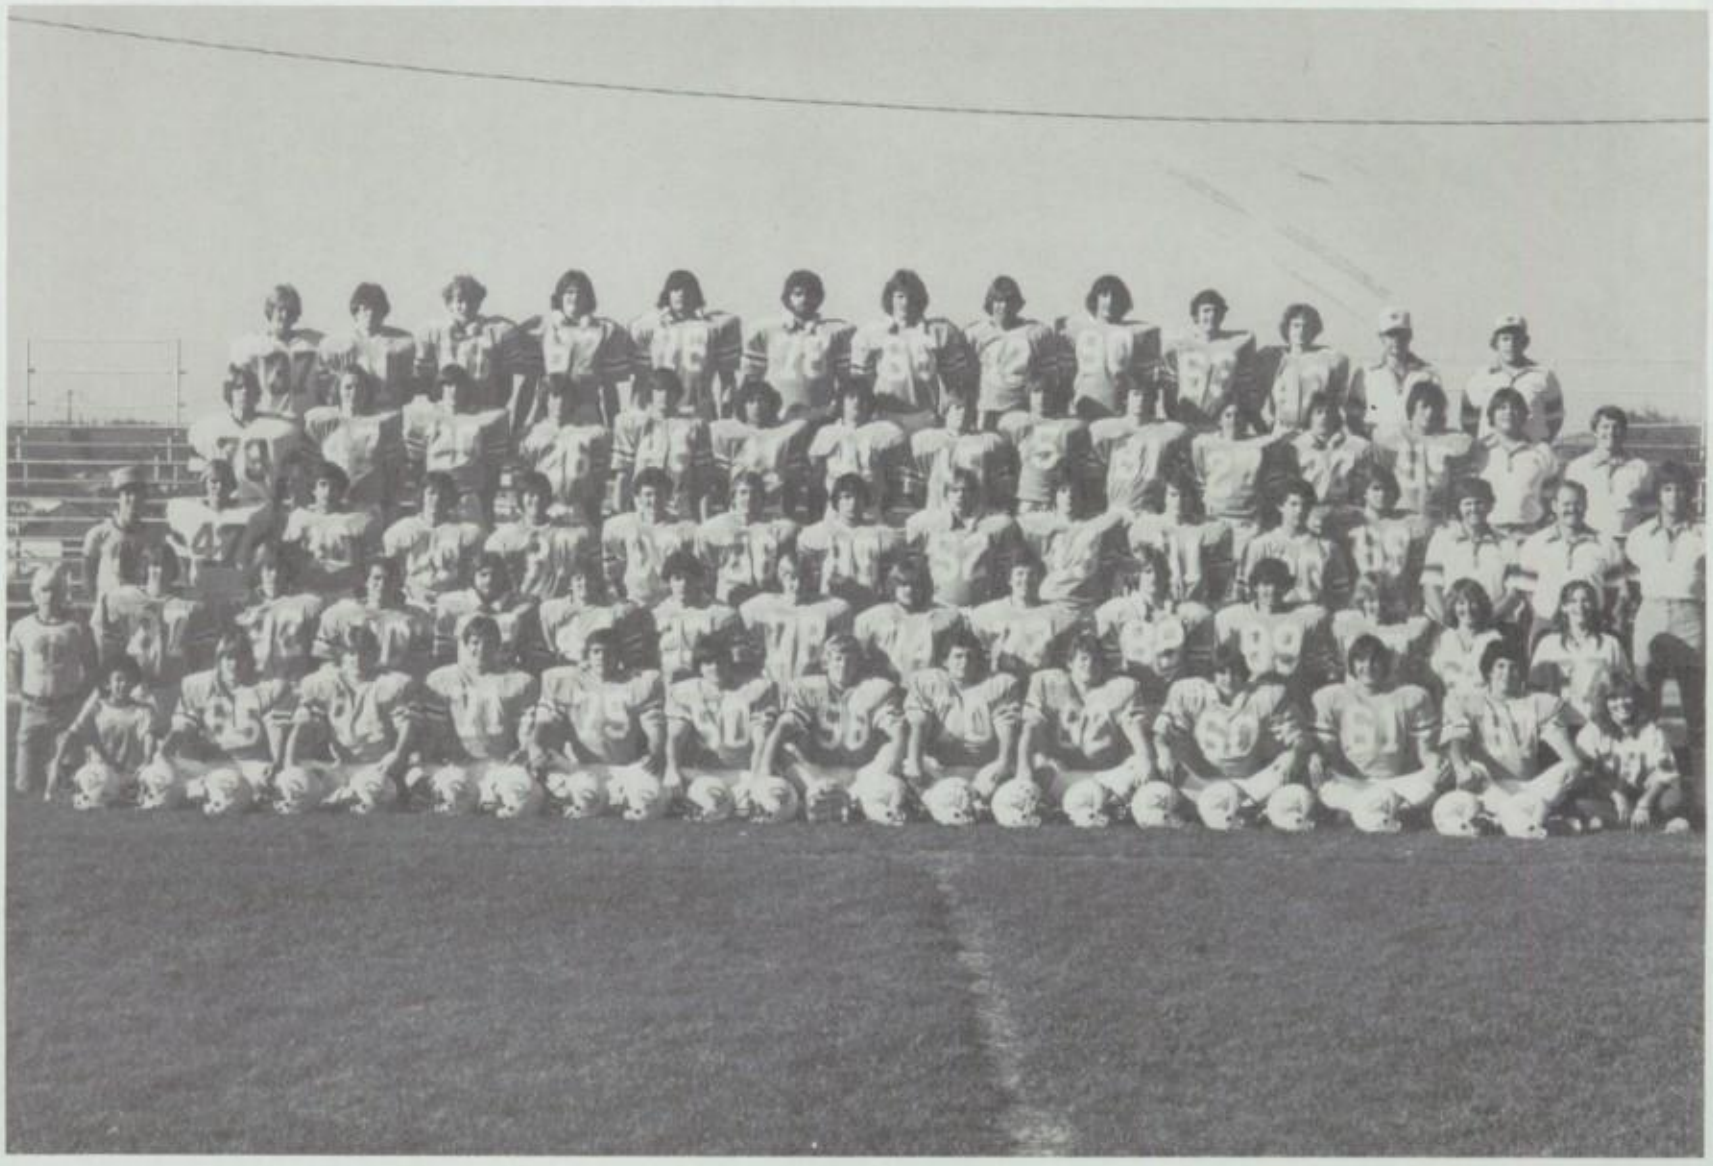
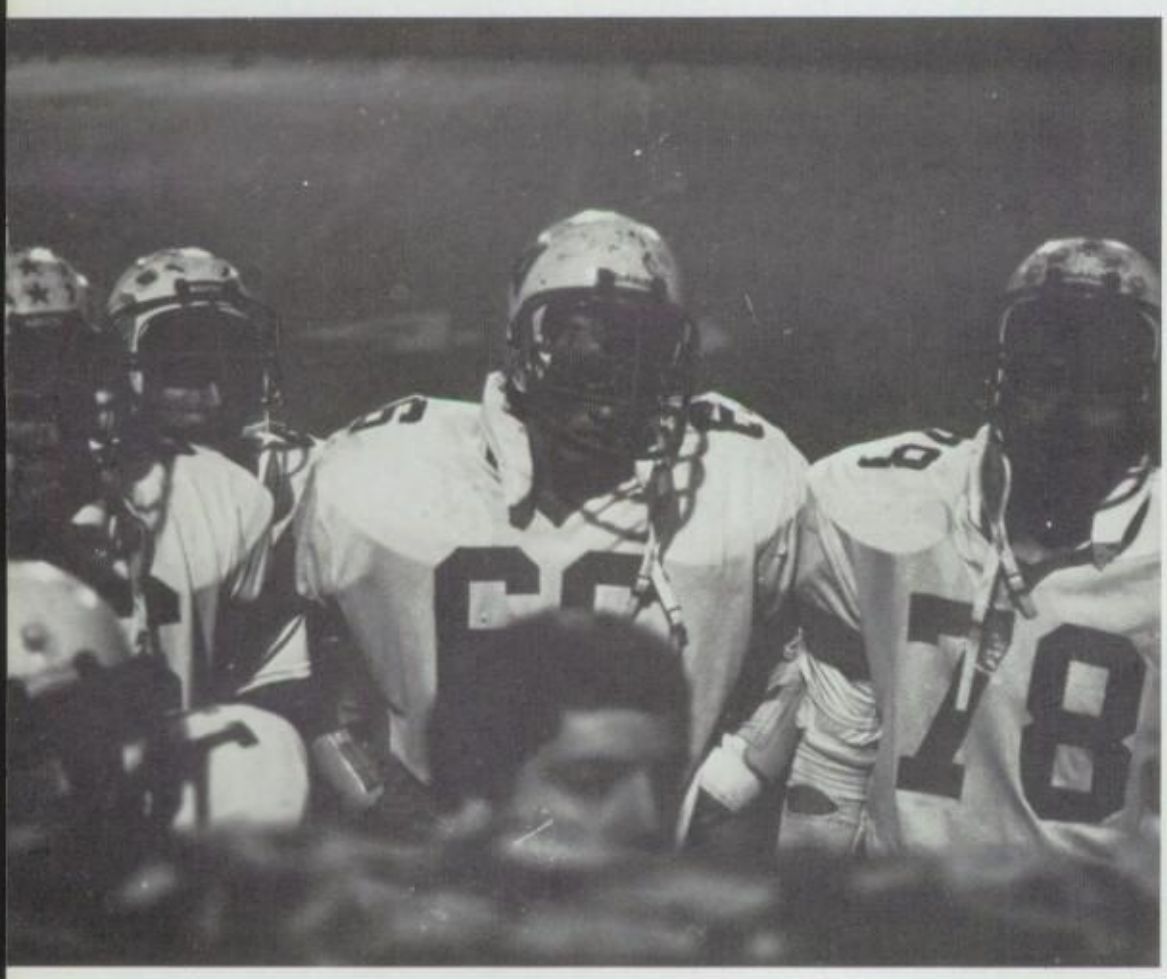
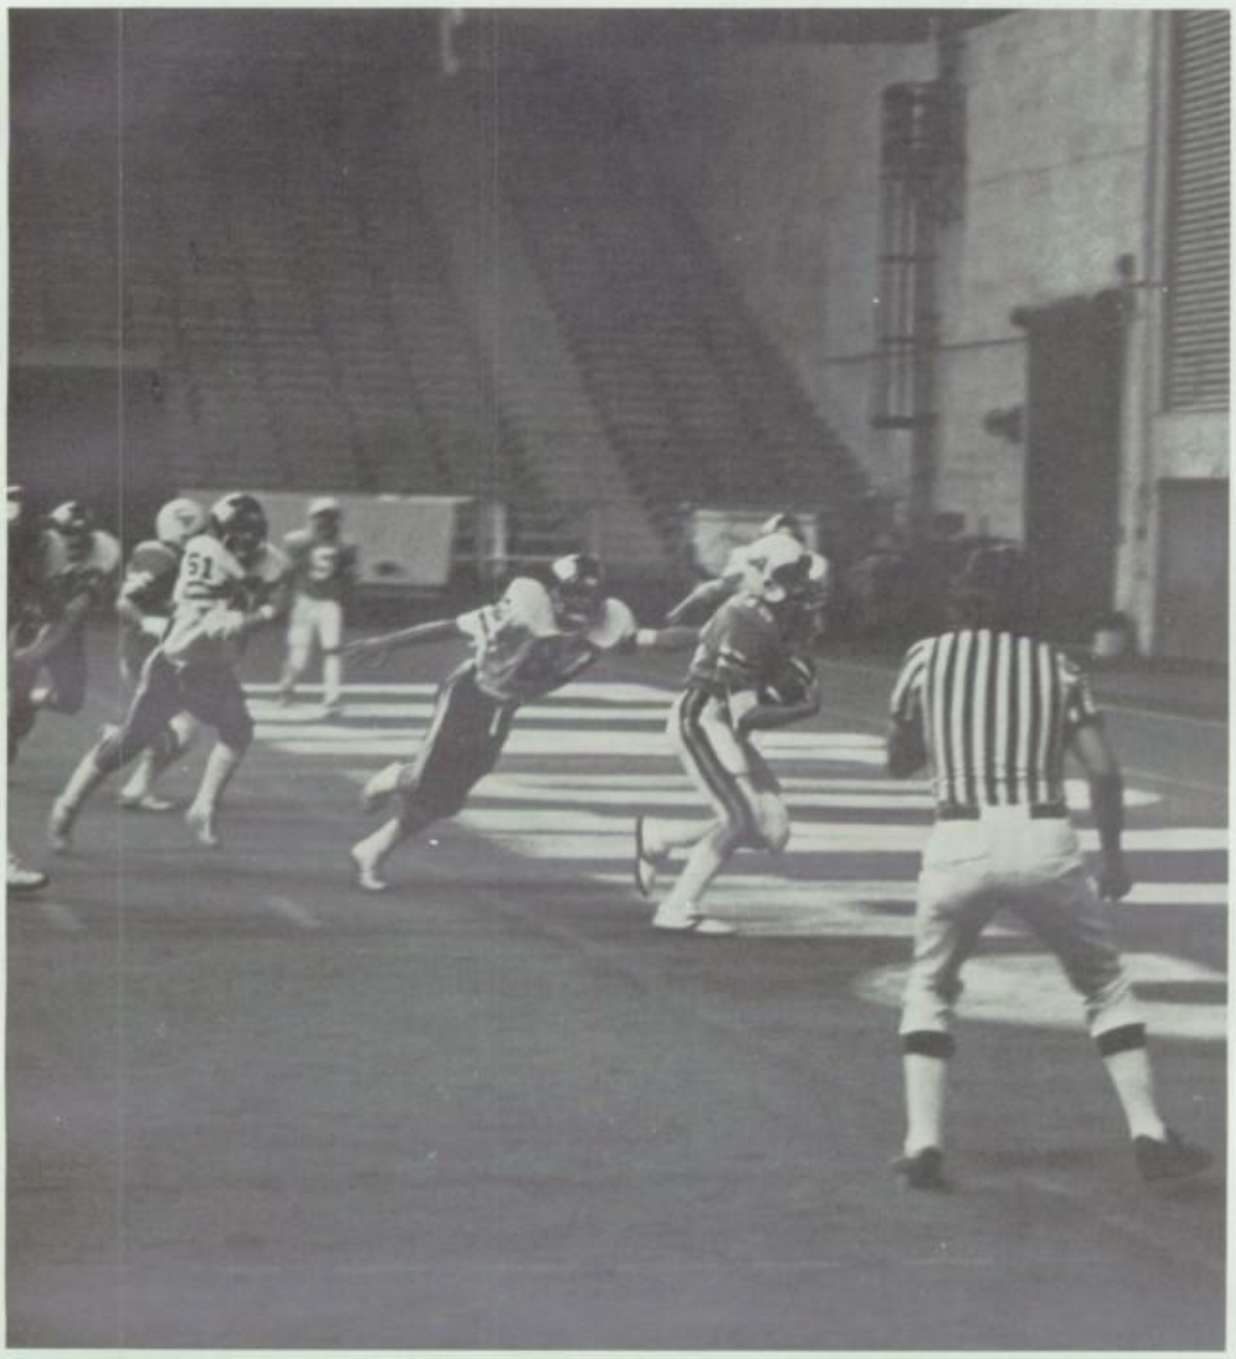
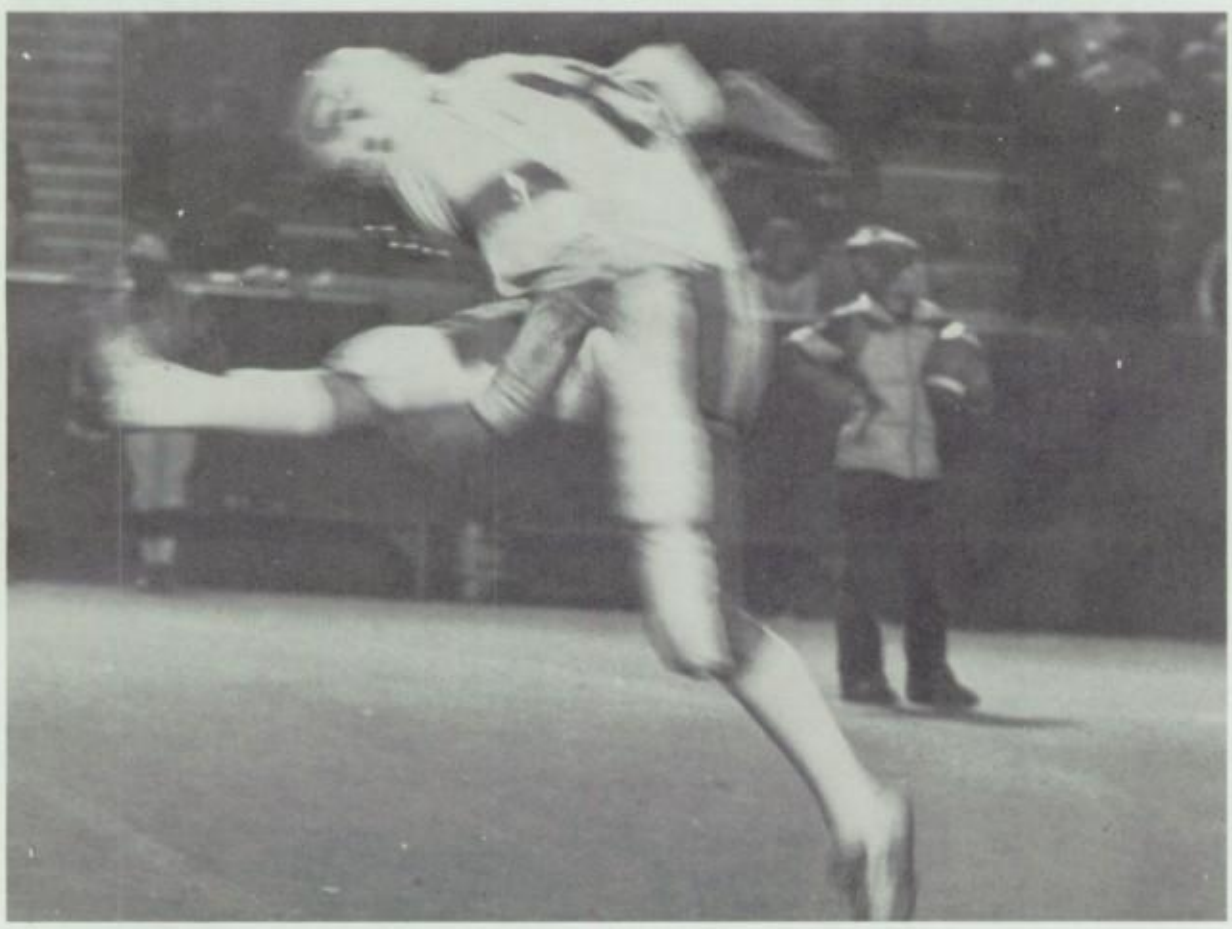
GSL Third Place Title





We Were Awesome





The varsity football team consisting of 32 seniors had their best season ever under third year coach Greg Gavin and his staff. The Bears had an undefeated season until their loss to the Shadle Park Highlanders 21-12. Although they lost to Shadle, they shared second place with Gonzaga Prep. But when the showdown came, the Bears were defeated and earned a third place title in the Greater Spokane League.

Team awards went to Terry Ota and Roy Lamb, defensive team captains and offensive team captains were Greg Horn and Rick Sloan. Defensive Most Valuable Player was Jim Sivak and Offensive M.V.P. was Rick Sloan. The Inspirational award went to Greg Horn also.

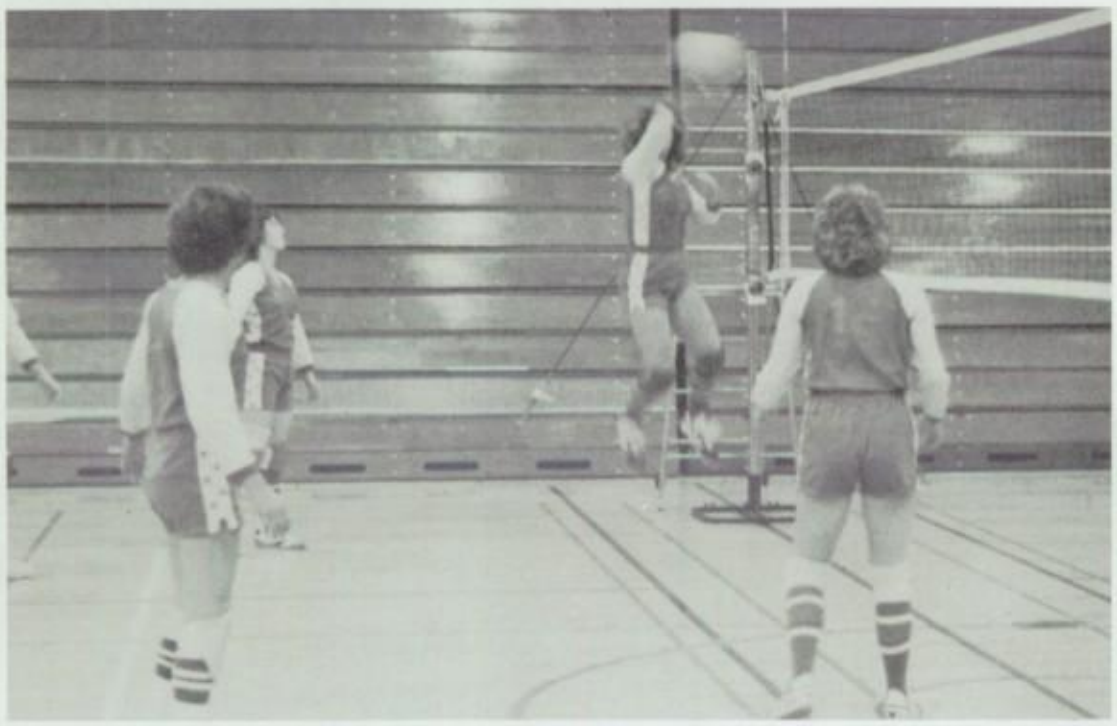
Volleyball Spikes Again



According to coach Mike Pearson, his varsity volleyball team was excellent. Even though the team's record was only 8-8 they beat Mead, top league contenders. His most outstanding players were the seniors including Missy Schaff, Tina Landers, Chris Karstetter, Sheryl Dodge and Rhonda Trautman. The remainder of the team also contributed tremendously to this year's success. They were: Jeanne Evans, Cheryl Krieg, Becky Byus, Kim Hayden, and Kelley Stevens..

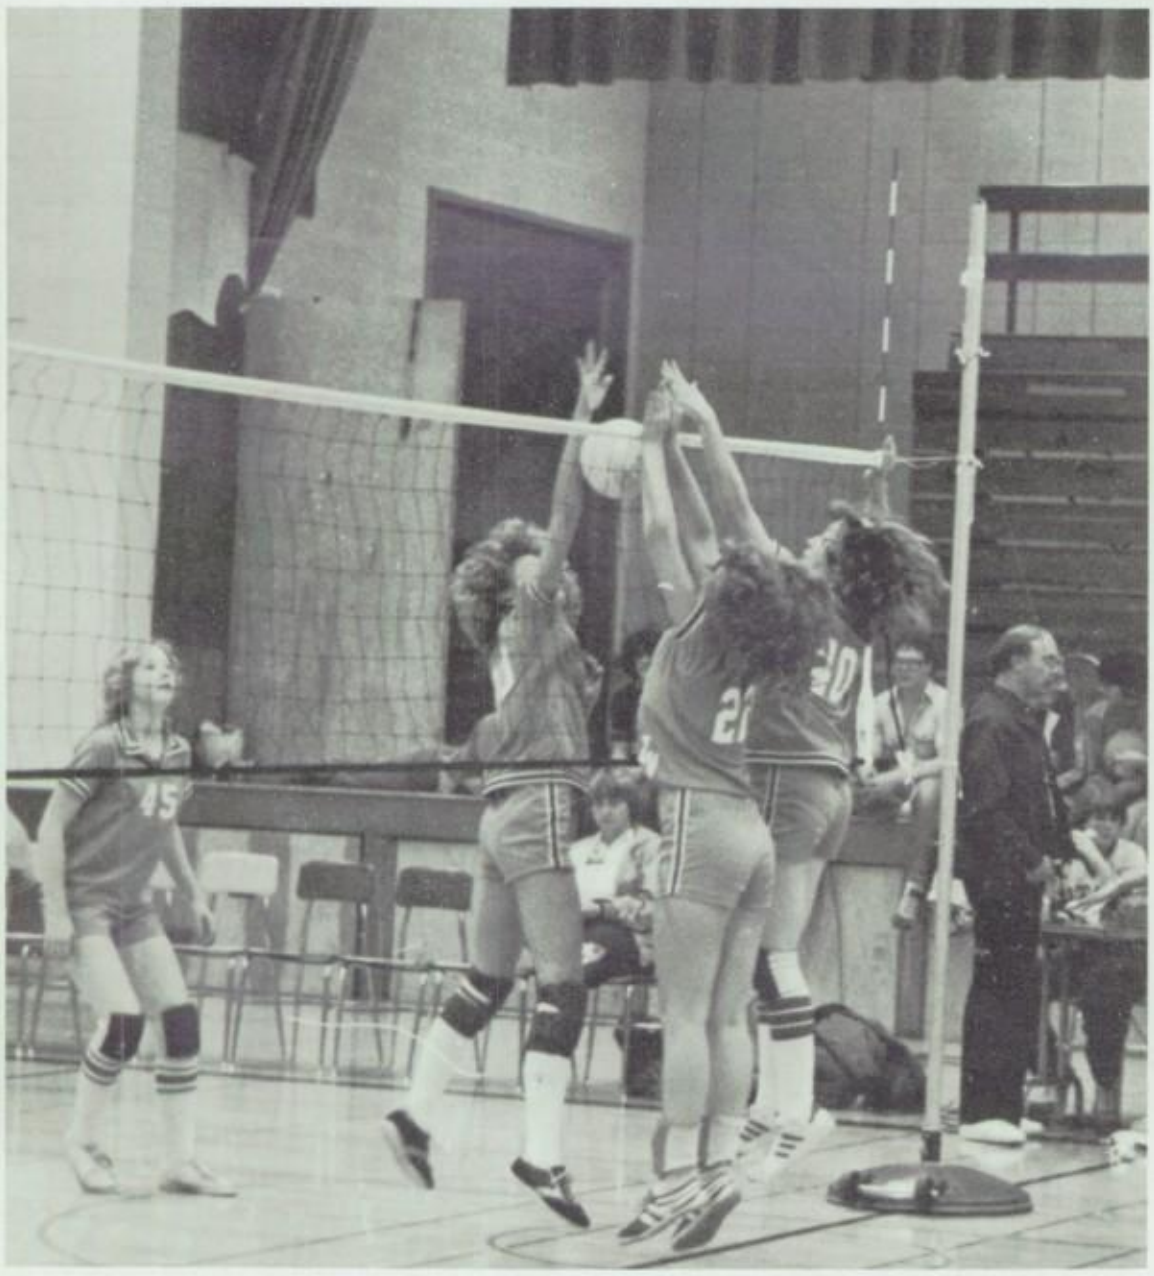
J.V. Sets 'Em Up To Win



The Junior Varsity Volleyball team, coached by Sally Wellman, finished with a superb standing of 13-3 by the end of the season. The team was made up of juniors and sophomores who used team work and individual skills to accomplish their excellent record. They lost to Mead, their toughest advesary, twice. Yet, the Bears managed to tie with them for first place.

Muscles, moves, and coordination were some qualities of the 1980-81 wrestling team. Although their record was 8-10, their spirit was undefeated.

Coach Art Keith, formerly of the University of Oregon, has much experience and enthusiasm for high school sports.

Some of the outstanding individuals this year were Robin Burrows, Roger Gotlob, Jerry Duncan, Shawn Soom, Kevin Goode, Jeff Bliesner, Jan Laes, Mark Douglas, Scott Colby, and Jim Upchurch.

C.V. Gymnasts Stick With It

Being able to maintain their poise and not succume to pressure was a major accomplishment of the 1980-81 gymnastics team. This year's team was comparatively young, consisting of three seniors, two juniors and five sophomores; with one returning gymnast, Kim Taylor. Each girl was strong in a different area and they all competed varsity at one time. Danette Hautala was the team's all around high scorer this year. With two assistant coaches and four managers, the team was under excellent supervision.

Dazzling Dunkers

The Varsity Boys Basketball team had a very exciting and competitive season. There were games won in the last seconds and games won in the first quarter. The season started out with a game against Richland at Richland. The Bears gave the Bombers a run for their money as usual. Another interesting game was against Shadle. The Bears came out and surprised the kilts off the Highlanders by being the only team in the league to take Shadle into overtime. C.V. lost the game but showed Shadle the Bears' capabilities. The Bears were coached by Stan Chalich who was assisted by Ron Knudsen.

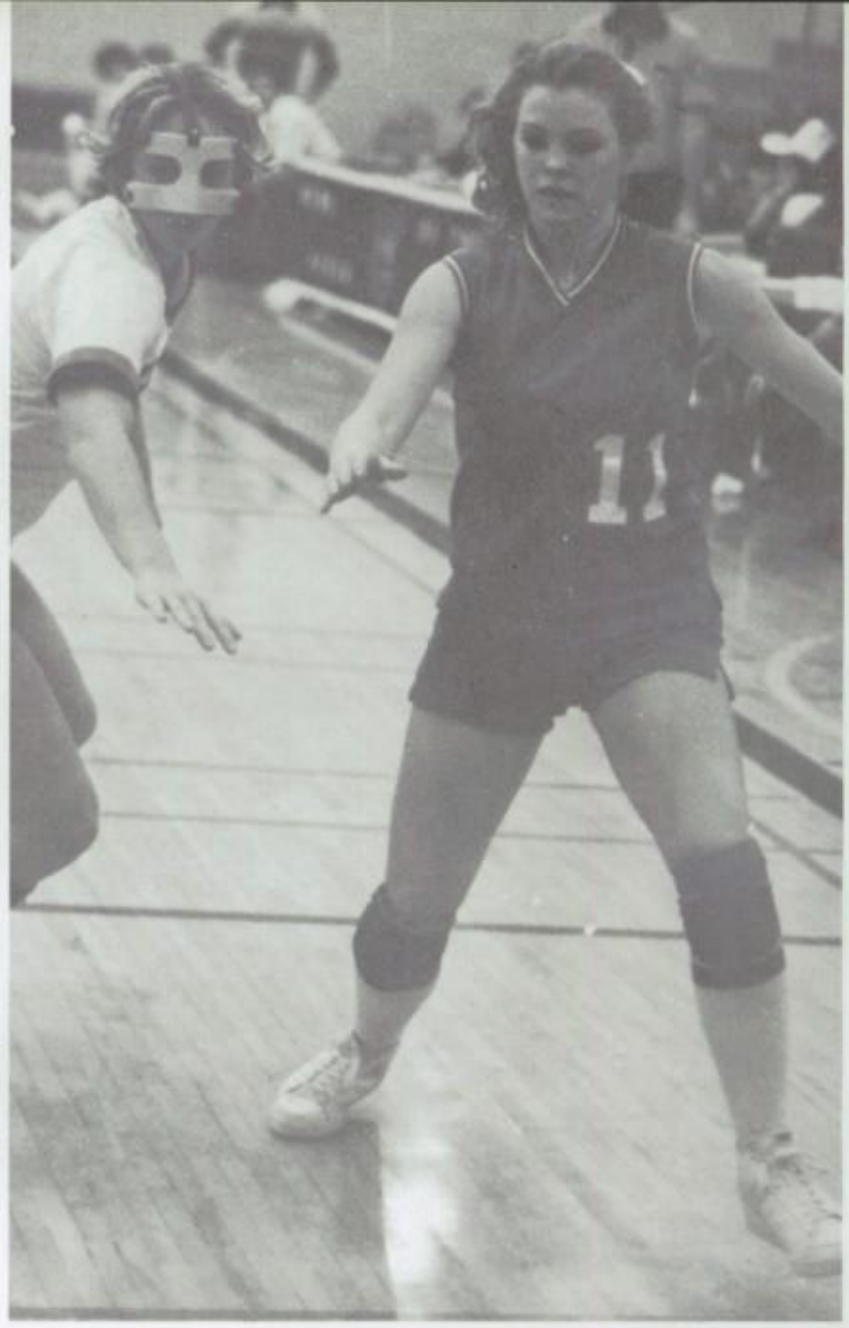
LADY BEARS



"I've had more fun this year coaching than any other year," remarked Coach Jack Blair. This attitude expressed by Coach Blair was reflected in Central Valley's Girls' Varsity Basketball team throughout the entire season. Being rated fourth in Washington State, the Lady Bear's team had to live up to some high expectations. They met these with victory after victory for Central Valley. In response to the fine exhibit of basketball playing displayed by the Lady Bears, Coach Blair stated, "I sincerely hope that the girls reach their goals because they really deserve it."

Some credit for the Girls Varsity Basketball team making it big must be attributed to the support they received throughout the season. Due to the winning record and the rise of Central Valley spirit, more students attended games this year than in any previous year.

Girls Go For The Top Seat

Central Valley's Junior Varsity and B-Squad girls basketball teams did a fine job this season of displaying the athletic skills of C.V. students. Doing an outstanding job of coaching were J.V. coach Judy Vermeers and B-Squad coach Sue Karstetter. Sue Karstetter, a graduate of Central Valley, returned this season to share her acquired talents with the B-Squad team. Both teams ended their seasons with winning records.

The B-Squad team consisted of Missy Madsen, Janelle Allen, Tess Massie, Annette Hand, Julie Schiller, Kay Ankerson, Karen McNamara, Heather McIntee, Charlotte Thompson, Paula Fitzhugh, and Terril Robertson.

Playing for the Junior Varsity was Becky Byus, Barb Graham, Colleen Koch, Terri Hatch, Kathy Danielson, Becky Bender, Janet Bishop, Tammy Begler, LuRae Broberg, and Kelly Stevens.

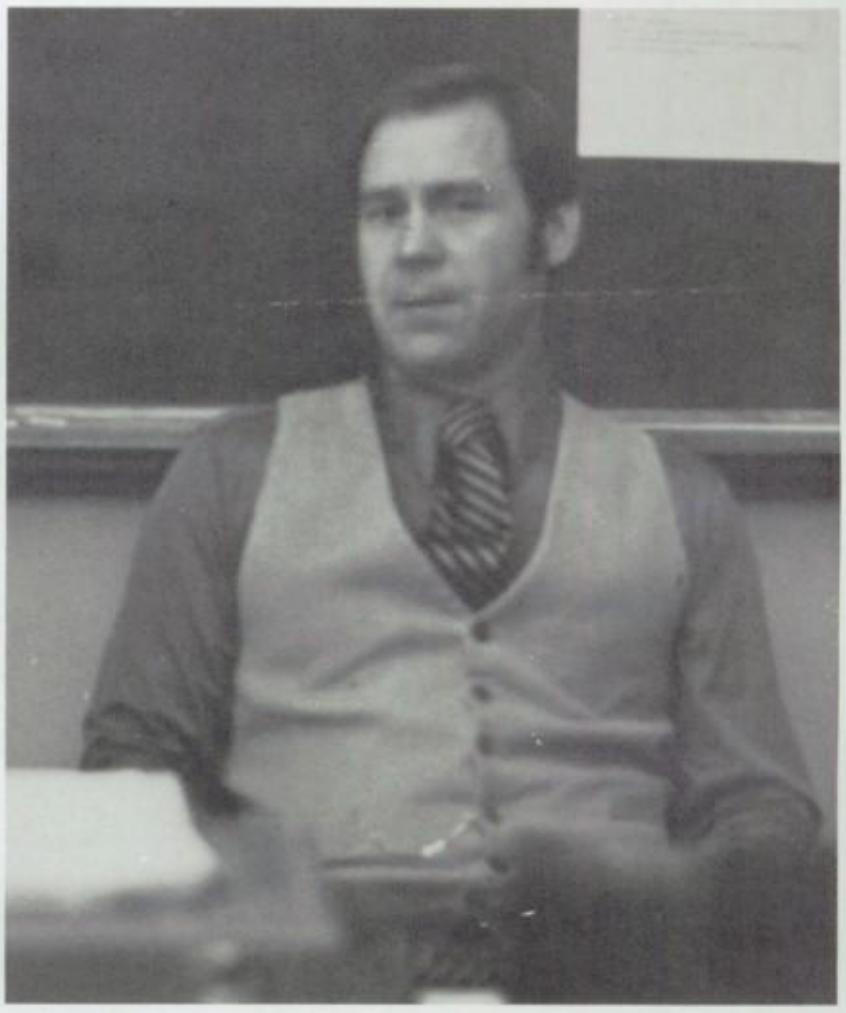
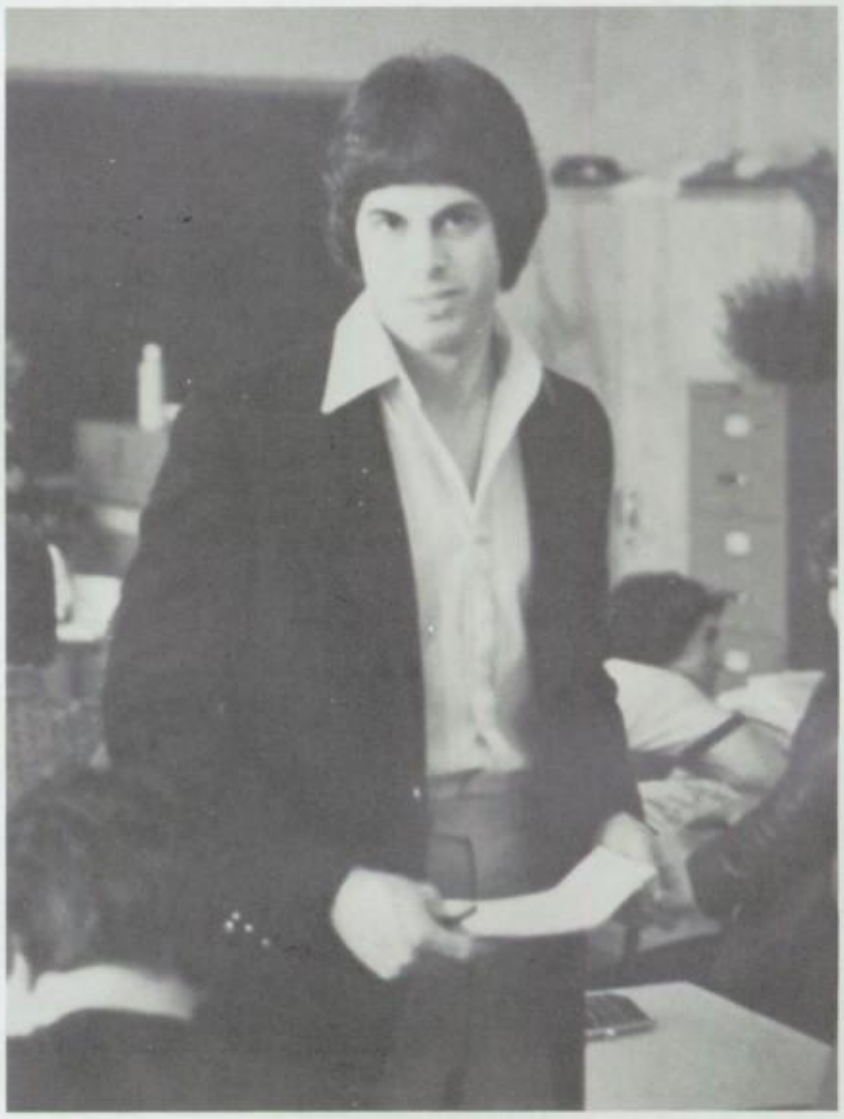
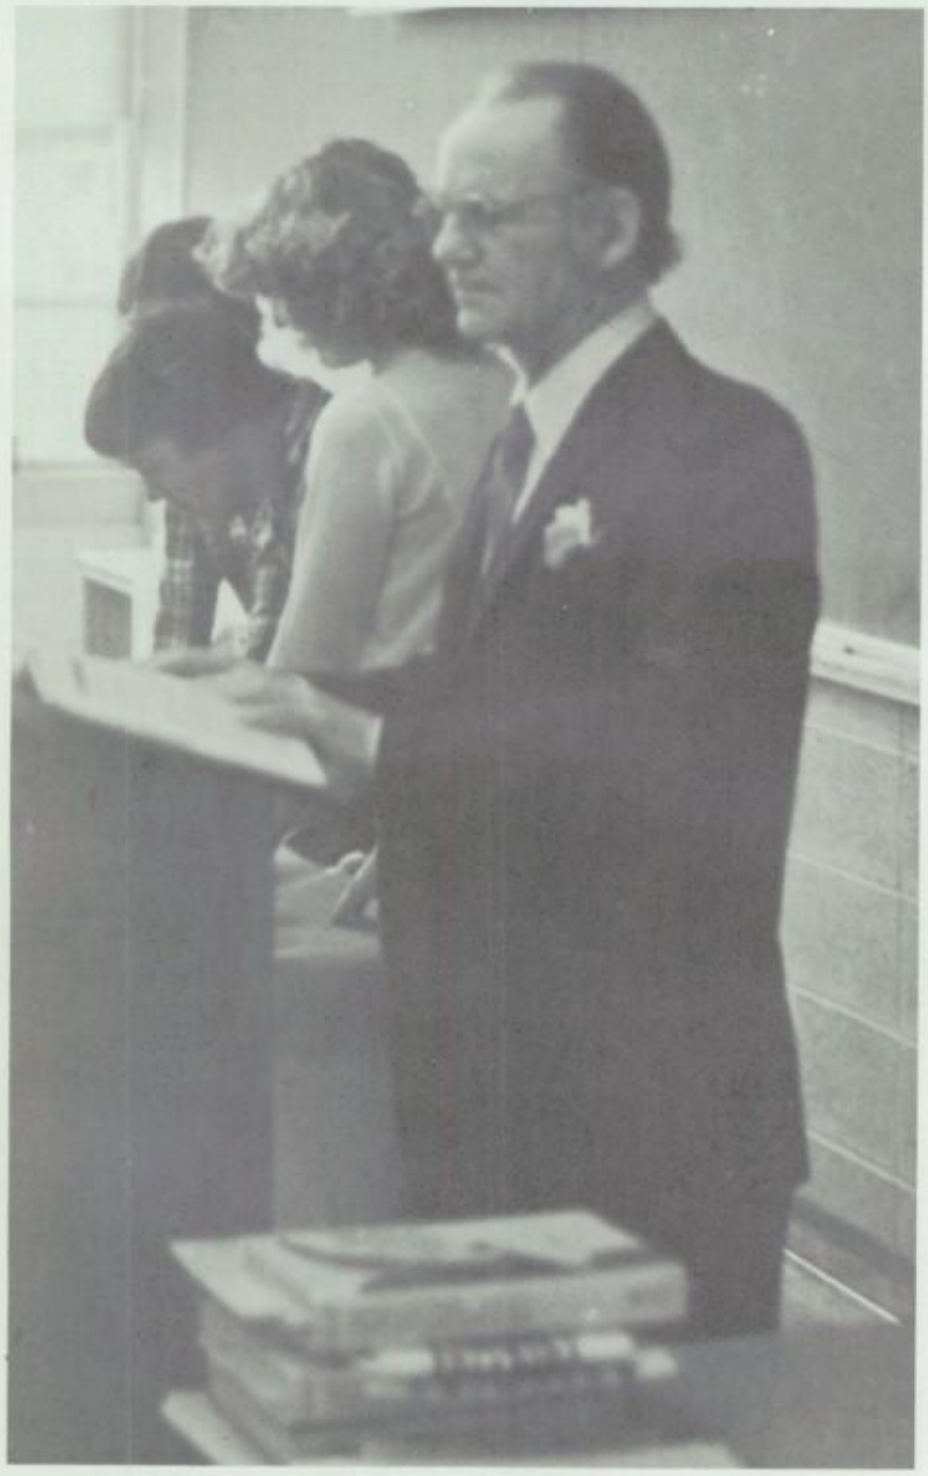
Histrionics







The selection that juniors and seniors could pick from Central Valley's social studies classes included U.S. History, Civics, World Affairs, European History, Psychology, and Sociology. These classes and more taught from the causes of the American Civil War to our progress and problems of the future. The mulit-talented teachers of these social studies classes are able to relate the importance of their subjects to the students.

The Glamour of Grammer

"Daddy, how do you spell zylafone?" "I don't know son, ask your mother." "Mommy, how do you spell zylafone?" "You spell xylophone, x-y-l-o-p-h-o-n-e."

That certainly isn't what Language Arts is all about. A very small amount is spelling. The rest is grammar, composition and literature. Among some of the books read in literature are the: Lord of the Flies, The Pearl, Lisa, Bright and Dark, and The Red Badge of Courage.

In addition to editifying students in grammar and literature, the Language Arts Department also brought beauty, talent, creativity and boundless intellect to the halls of C.V.

There was an addition to the language Arts Department this year. Megan Leigh, or better known as "Mom" to C.V. students, blended in quite well with all of the other crazy English teachers. She was also accepted and well liked by the students she worked with. Megan came to Central Valley with very little knowledge of journalism. This fact made her work twice as hard as to learn everything there was to know. Overall Mrs. Leigh caught on very quickly.

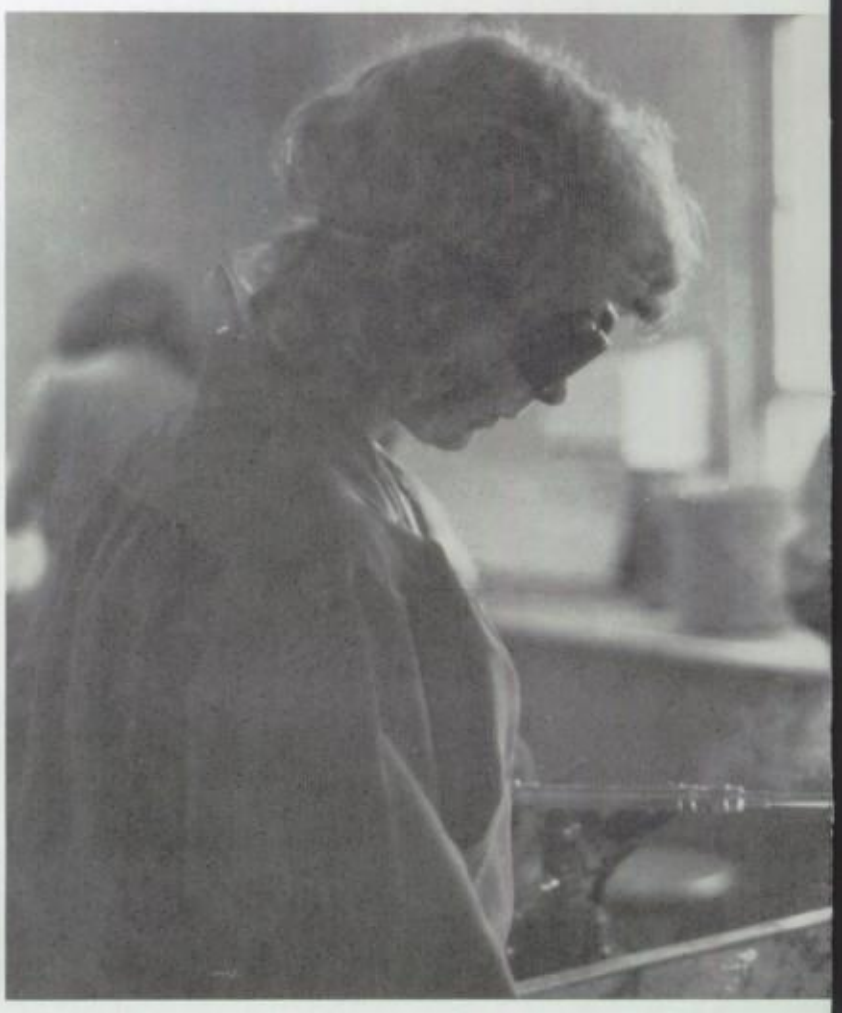
A Work of Art



What would the world be like without any color, imagination or talent? The Arts of today would be of little interest to anyone without these ingredients. The teachers of the Fine Arts Department make sure we have these ingredients to obtain high quality performance in the Arts. The head of this department is Barbara Buteux, along with Sue Mihalic, Marge Rodgers, Mel Clayton, and Stan Owens.

Best wishes to a really neat guy. Have a nice summer. Mrs. B-

Phil,
I've enjoyed having you in class. Have a good summer and come back ready to work next year.
M. Rodgers

The Better Business Backers

The faculty business bears are busy helping students develop skills which will help them now and in the future. Tick, bzzt, whirrrrr go the business machines; scratch, squiggle go the stenographers; and tap, tap, peck, peck, ding, go the typewriters.

Shape It Up

In years past, Central Valley's Physical Education Department's goal was to promote good health in the students of Central Valley. This year they continued to help build strong bodies and minds through in and out of school activities.

Weight Training and Weight Control classes contributed greatly to the P.E. program. These classes were designed for those not required or not able to participate in general physical education so that they too would have an everyday way to stay in good shape.

The Vocal groups were busy this year performing in five different concerts including a special Christmas concert in front of the student body. Concert Choir and Single Swingers showed their support when they joined voices and sang "You Gotta Be A Football Hero' at the homecoming assembly in football jerseys. They even found time in their busy schedules for competitions, well supported by Mr. Hafner. All the groups were under the direction of Mr. Stan Owens and assisted by student teacher, Miss Maria Monzo.

Scintillating Swingers

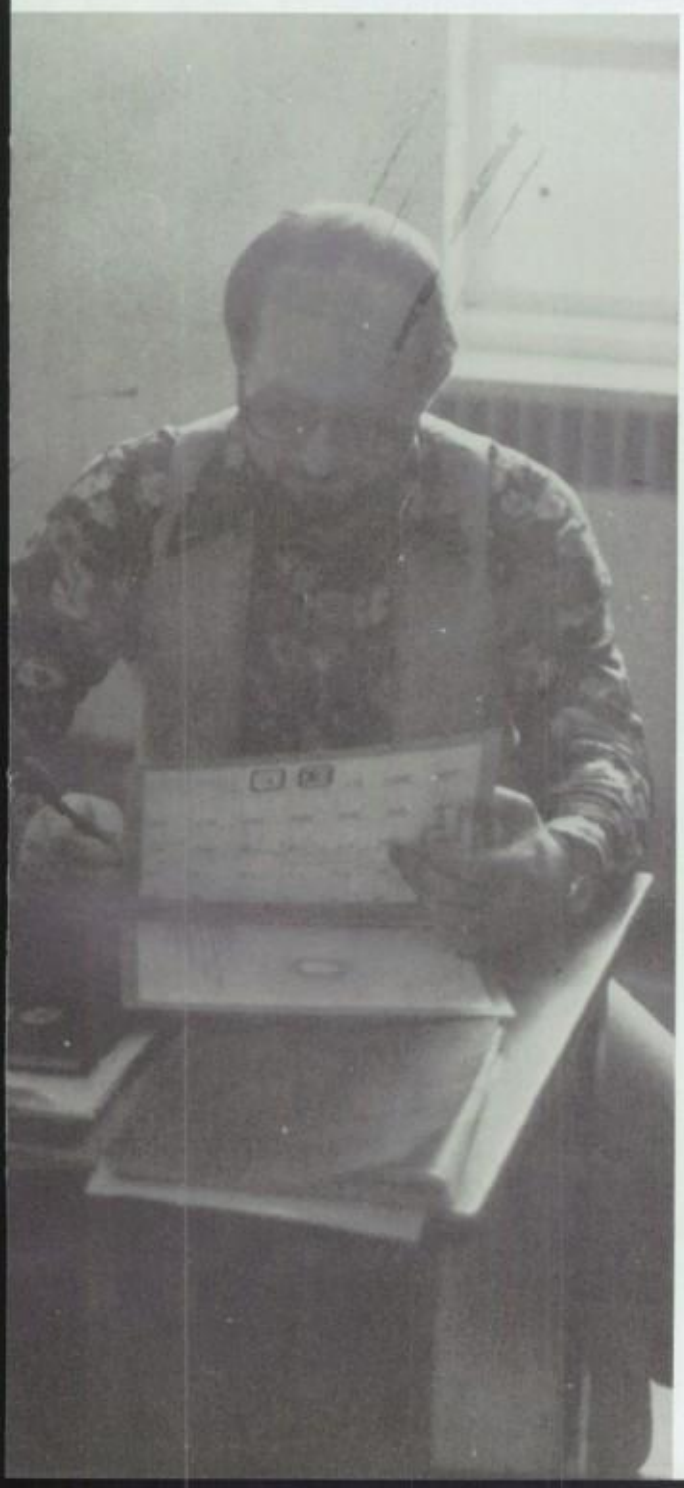
The Single Swingers, mainly dominated by seniors, took their annual trip to Portland for a Jazz competition this year but luckily were not stranded by Mt. St. Helens. To raise the money to go on this trip, they sold concessions at boys' home basketball games, collected newspapers and recycled them, put on the Sweetheart dance, sold family portraits, and had a football yardage competition. They also attended two other competitions, one in Pasco and another in Moscow.

During the Christmas season, they traveled to area grade schools and performed. The principals of the grade schools said that they were very pleased because the Single Swingers got the students involved in the performance. Later in the year they went around again for promotional reasons. Mr. Ownes had said that little boys think that singing is feminine so he wanted them to e exposed to male singers.

The success of the group is due to the fact that they became an "ensemble."

SINGLE SWINGERS: Kelly Vanhoff, Ron Halverson, Laurie Novenche, Bob Church, Ken Arthur, Debbie Donoian, Chris Prophet, Jeanne markson, Sherri Hall, Larry Sanders, Carrie Clark, Joe Dansereau, Patty Graham, Mr. Stan Owens, Joanne Hotchkiss, Jerry Knowles, Karla Jeffrey, Chris Bergman, Andy Hay, Duane Dansereau, Heidi Bledsoe, Lee Clark, Tina Long.

Soundtrack By:



The bands of Central Valley are heading up in the world. The members are hard workers and know that "practice makes perfect" as they proved at the Marching Band competition. They placed second out of 14 for the triple A school bands.

They made it on to the University of Idaho for more competition and placed sixth out of 20 bands.

Mr. Clayton, advisor, has been working hard with the Jazz, Concert, and Symphonic bands. He says there is "nothing else he would rather do." Mr. Clayton says he enjoys working with high school students. "They have more enthusiasm than college kids."

High expectations await the future bands of Central Valley. Mr. Clayton's long range goal is to be number one nationally. Somebody has to be there, why not Central Valley. He is working for a high degree of excellence. Although most of the kids are in it for fun, they realize the importance of it and they feel that number one is a reasonable goal.

Another group on the road to making Central Valley the best all around.

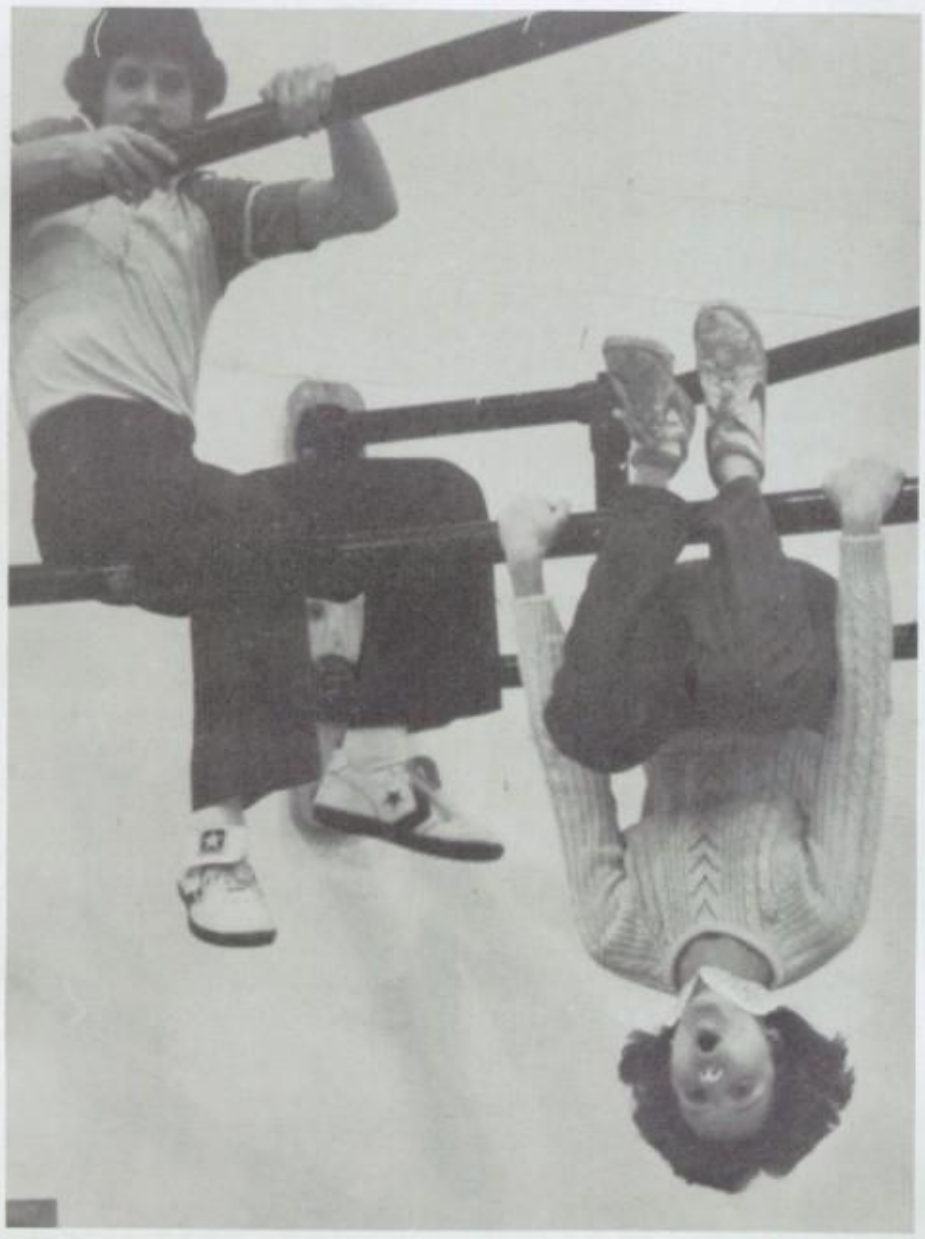
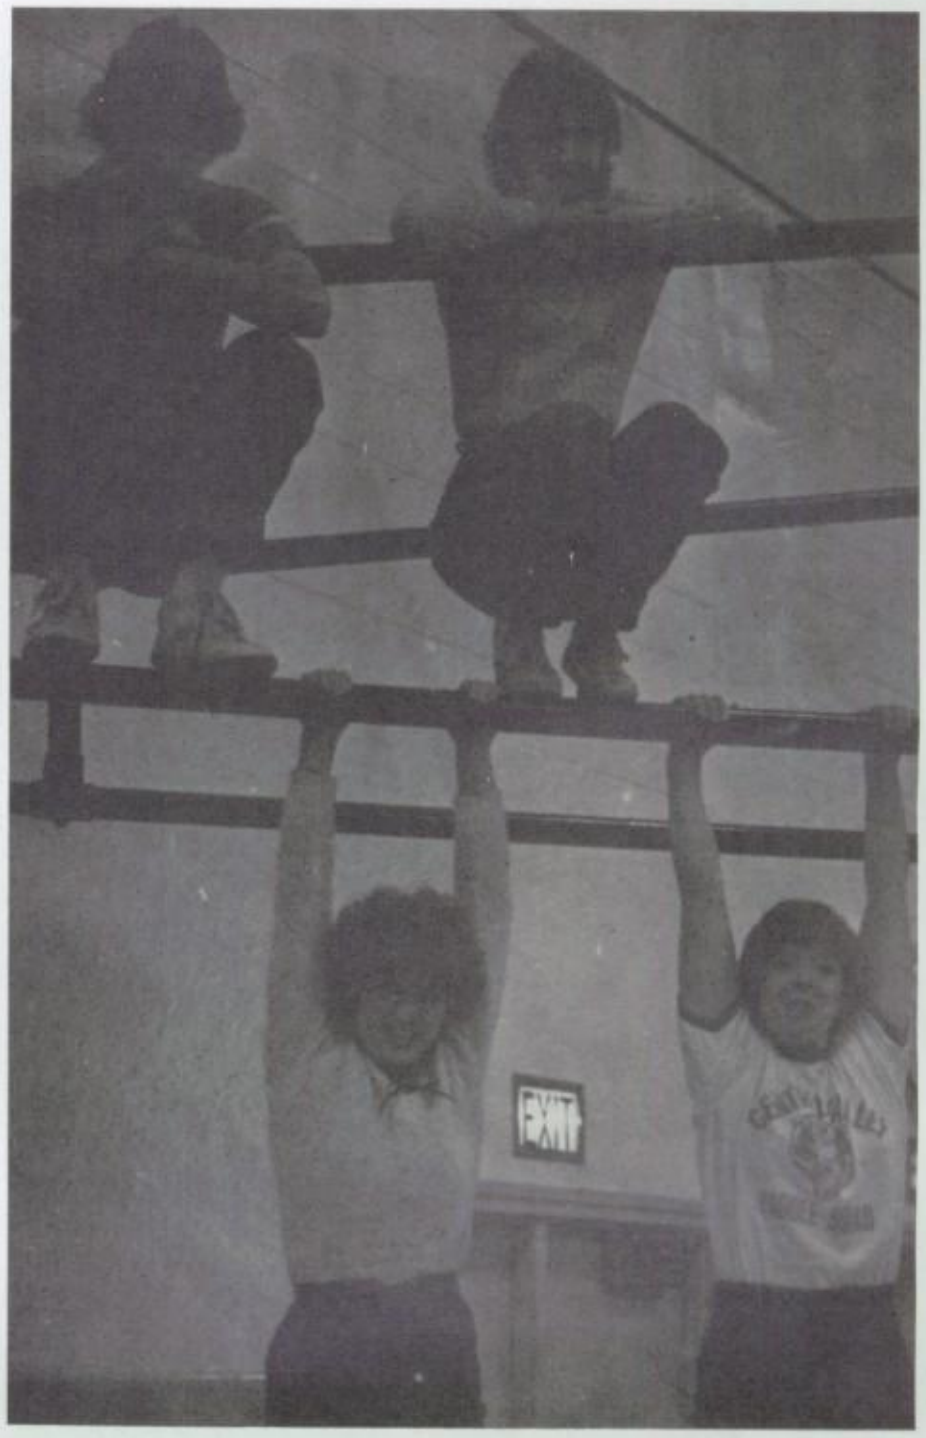
Steering Seniors





Extra hours, extra energy, extra talent, were found in this year's Senior Steering Committee. There was not much of a change in the organization's responsibilities this year; taking care of the Christmas dance, senior breakfast, and best of all, the senior ball. The only big difference was that the seniors had more spirit and pride — what a way to end the last year of high school.

SENIOR STEERING COMMITTEE: Jenny Putnam, Merry Rowland, Elizabeth Henderson, Julene Andres, Stacie Anderson, Sandy Morris, Renee Anderson, Kim Blaine, Lisa Buillet, Becky Norland, Susan MacNeil, Debbie Long, Gene Coelho, Kathy Henderson, Celia Gamble, Mike Allen, Cathy Ashworth, Tina Long, Lee Clark, Michelle Bean, (alias Beaner.) Blithe Spirits

'Bears in the front - let me hear ya grunt!' These types of cheers could be heard from the mouths of excited students at a football game, wrestling match, or basketball game. The excitement at an athletic event usually starts with a certain handful of girls in short skirts and sweaters.

Cheerleaders play an important role in the attitude of a student body. This past year C.V. had been supported by three groups of cheerleaders; Varsity, Wrestling, and B-Squad. These girls spent many hours preparing assemblies, selling doughnuts, going to summer camp and cheering at all girls' and boys' sports.

The B-Squad consisted of ten girls: Shelley Demars, Miriam Cox, Stacie VanHoff, Debbie Conger, Debbie Colburn, Sheila Dorsey, Brenda LeMaster and Pam Krieg.

The Wrestling cheerleaders consisted of five girls: Tracey Graham, Denise Miller, Stephanie Lowry, Lisa Hillier, and Kelly King.

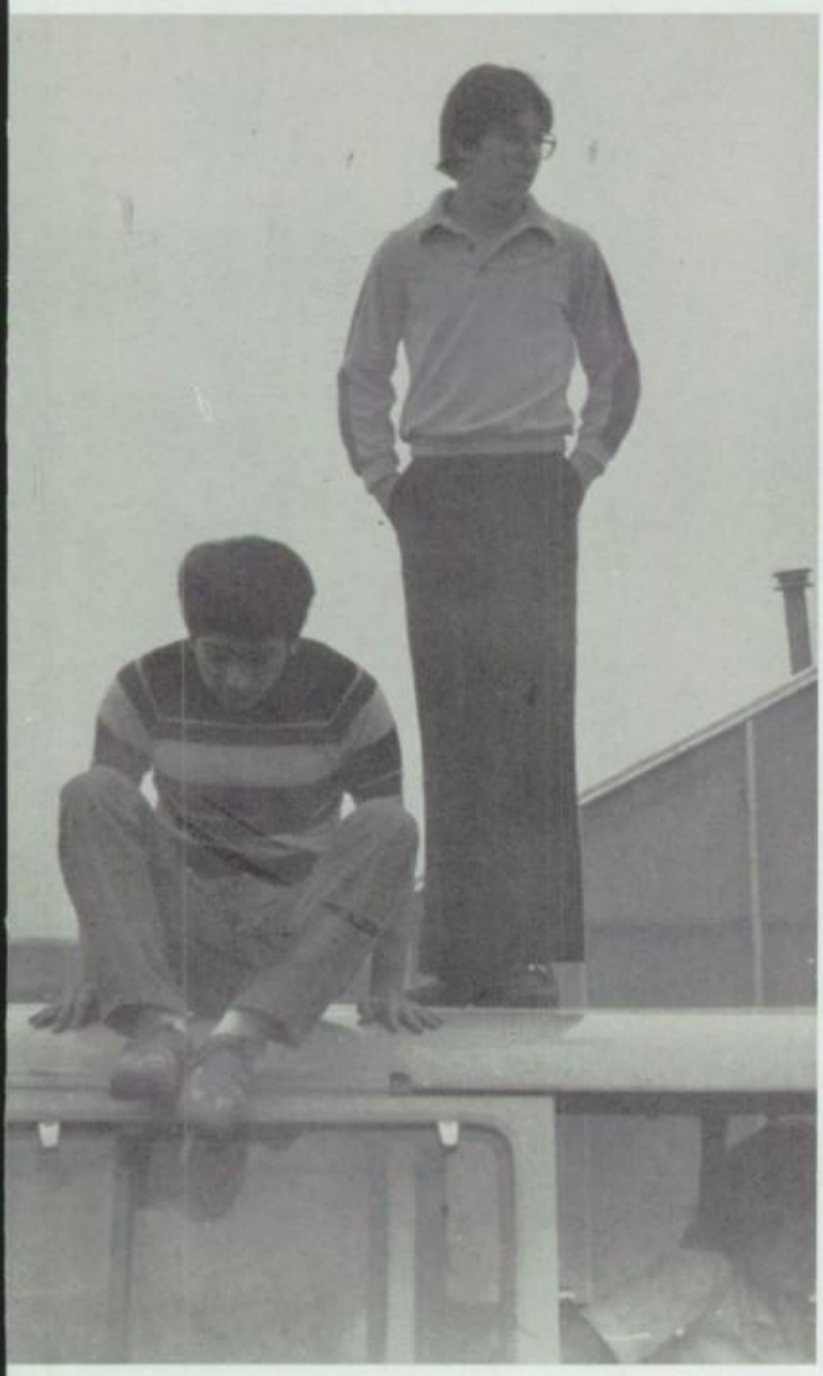
The Varsity Cheerleaders were: Julene Andres, Elizabeth Henderson, Patty Dagon, Shelley Sharpe, Pam Sparrow, and Kari Payne and Nancy Kilmer.

"We received a lot of support this year, its a good way to end a senior year," stated Julene Andres. The cheerleaders also had support from their two mascots; Patty Henchel and Cindy Orr; and Advisor, Ray Blowers.

Foreign Students Expand

If you want a challenge, go to Japan for a year. Live with a Japanese family, speak their language, eat their food. This would be an experience in itself. But now try to attend a Japanese school, studying grammar, literature, history, and math. What an exciting education. How would we react to leaving our families, friends and "sweethearts" behind That really would be a challenge. Our foreign exchange students have accepted this challenge. Their education, courage, adaptability and personality have increased and expanded. Hopefully, we, the students of Central Valley, have also gained from their experiences.

Debate Reaches Pinnacle After Long Battle!



Argument, rebuttal, research, practice and talent; all were combined to make this year's debate season a successful one. Under the careful eyes of advisor Sarah Taylor and assistant Ginny Lathem, the debate team was ranked among the best in the league.

SPIRIT CLUB

The Gentle Inspiration

Spirit Club was as strong as ever during the 1980-81 school year, and how could they not be under the direction of Mrs. Gavin. With approximately 75 members, the guardian angels, or G.A.'s, rapidly expanded in size and coverage.

Their responsibilities included decorating the football players' homes the first game, last game, and homecoming. The rest of the year they decorated the lockers of the football players, girl's and boy's basketball players, and competitors of state debate and designated spring sports.

Mrs. Gavin stressed that Spirit Club made an effort to support as many activities, major and minor, as possible. "But we can't really have total spirit if just girls participate. The guys need to realize they're part of the school too!"

More Than One Way To Lead

Leadership was in abundance this past year at Central Valley. Honor Society played an important role in our academics. Jeff Waybright presided as president with a club of 23 members.

The rough and tough leaders were our boys and girls paddle squad. Mohn Meyers and Chris Karstetter's group patrolled bathrooms and made sure students got to and from the assemblies without detour.

The feminine leaders of the school were the Activity League with Tina Landers as president. This group sponsored dances (Sadies, Gingham), and organized the Mothers Tea and Fathers Dessert.

The Student Council made up of representatives of organizations and each class were a voice in the governing of the student body.

The Clubs that Create

"Putting paint on everything in sight is surely art's most satisfying form." (Sir Alan Patrick Herbert)

And that is what it is all about, putting life into visual form. Art club does this in several ways. They have helped other clubs by advertising special events or things of special interest. To add an extra special artistic ability to the holidays, they painted various business windows. They are the preservers of beauty.

Central Valley's Key Club is a service organization in which the members create projects to better our school and community. The 75 members of the Key Club thrive on work and service for others giving members an opportunity to gain knowledge by work experience.

The members in Key Club are unique in many ways. The members not only provide the school with the many services but also go into the community to undertake various projects for the benefit of the entire area.

Among the many activities the Key Club sponsored a Turkey Trott and visited Lakeland Village.

Food For Thought

This year the DECA class has added a new look to Central Valley halls. The new "Bear Necessities" is a store and Deli in one. DECA students worked hard on putting the store together. But because of building problems the set date of Nov. 6 was not met and the store opened on Tuesday, Nov. 18. Advisor, Clarence Scott said, "The students are gaining experience in store supervision and in running the show themselves."

Although the store is popular among the students and faculty there was much controversy over the winner of the name contest, "Bear-A-phernalia." Many of the students and faculty felt that the name "Bear-A-phernalia" indicated the use of drugs and drug paraphernalia. When the DECA students stood their ground over the newly chosen name, many petitions and complaints were issued, and in the end, the name was changed to "Bear Necessities." In the end everyone was happy and well fed.

"Tina, are there any sophomores in girl's ensemble?"

"I'm gonna get upset! Alright, who keeps using my football pictures?"

"I AM mad!!"

"They're mine!"

"Ooh my gosh, there is a picture just lying here!"

"Where's my ruler? Where-is-my-ruler. You're sitting on it!"

"Somebody goes 'Hey, somebody tell a dirty joke!' and I go, 'I know a dirty.' I looked around and Mr. Bell was not there so I told this gross joke and everybody goes 'Yuk - gross!' and I turned around and there was Mr. Bell. I was so embarrassed!"

"You sick dog, Timm!"

These were just some of the things said around deadline time in the yearbook class.

Even though the class had a new teacher and a new staff, a lot was accomplished. Mrs. Leigh, otherwise known as Mom, worked just as hard as the students to learn the yearbook procedures. She was a big help to the yearbook staff.

There was a time that it was doubtful that the Seniors would have colored pictures, but with fund raising events put on by the senior class, the money was raised to pay the extra money for the color.

Making Excuses During Class

Solving the problems of the world is not what Julene Andres is trying to do. By her facial expression and her casual position it looks like she is trying to talk her way out of an earth shattering problem. Either looks can be deceiving, the topic in discussion is either debatable or she's into some kind of mischief.
